billion in gains Louisiana's Opportunity Zone Initiative was designed to deliver at least $7.5 billion in gains to the state's struggling economy from tax windfalls generated by deals involving certain properties located in its Opportunity Zones, according to the House Committee on Economic Development and Commerce, which approved legislation for the measure. The House voted 83 to 7 last week to pass the bill during the special legislative session. The Senate is expected to act on the bill this week. The legislation, Senate Bill 509, would modify the 2016 federal Tax Cuts and Jobs Act to ensure that an Opportunity Zone will be created for every commercially viable project that occurs within a single tract, and not just for an "orphan" facility, whether the owner be interested in the zone or not. During the regular legislative session earlier this year, the finalizing touches to Louisiana's Opportunity Zone Initiative was extensively examined by the House Committee on Economic Development and Commerce. Republican Rep. Dan Little, R-Houma, chair of the Economic Development and Commerce Committee, said much of the bill focuses on changing federal law. “The Opportunity Zones legislation sets a high bar in increasing economic development and revenue in Louisiana,” he said. “I truly believe that this legislation will lead to thousands of additional jobs and revitalize struggling communities across Louisiana. I’m excited to be able to endorse this bipartisan legislation in Louisiana and support the efforts to create more jobs for Louisiana residents.” In a bid to generate about a half-billion dollars in new investments and revenues in the year following the passing of the tax package, the legislature created the 50 zones across the state, each of which benefits from a potential $2,000 tax exemption on eligible commercial property. Officials did not say which properties would fall in these zones, because the law allows for the IRS to make a designation of which properties qualify after a qualified real estate lawyer

Game Description:

So here we are, Trials by Viking, wishing, no insisting, that I will be your Viking today (or at least your Viking for that day). Your typical Viking only gets 1 hour to explore, fight and slay the persistent world.

Now on the other hand you are a Viking with greater things to do and superior weapons. You have more time, more resources, access to hundreds of weapon and hundreds of enemies. Why on earth would you not play your Viking for an unlimited amount of time with a limitless number of resources?

In Trials by Viking, you'll be hacking and slashing your way through worlds and hordes of enemies as you attempt to unlock a treasure planet. Some days, you'll slay tens of enemies. Some days you'll just work your way up to 50 or more. You fight your way through over 50 levels with accompanying bosses. All of the worlds are expansive and procedurally generated. The level that you start on each day is different from what you started on the day before.

You'll choose to explore the world early, or you can wait and earn your health and kills Derpy Fight is a 2D RPG inspired by the monster hunter / rogue-like "paradox" games. You play as a cute witch with a goat in a world full of monsters and traps. Scattered throughout the lands are crystals, pieces of a magical treasure chest that holds untold riches, and if you have the courage and a good heart, you may just get to pick them up! Once you've obtained a certain number of crystals, you must dive into a dungeon in order to retrieve the chest of riches. After a brief battle, you're left with one of three choices, and the game ends. Battle a variety of monsters, obtain crystals, and refine your weapons and spells to uncover the treasure! Every chapter has a different theme, and a different dungeon. Get your witching skills and slay some baddies! Daughter of a Pharaoh features small, interactive temples that grow organically around you as you explore the land. As you explore, you will find a temple that you can enter and then explore. The more you explore, the bigger the temple, and the more interesting, statues, objects, and enemies you'll find! Some temples contain puzzles and other secrets. You don't need to have a clear end goal in mind, as the entire game can be experienced in different ways. We hope you enjoy discovering the secrets of the Greatness yourself! A short adventure game with an enormous world. Explore the gorgeous open world environment, find precious items and treasures in order to improve your farm and craft new weapons, traps and alchemy items. Catch rare creatures and raise them, making them powerful. Then sell your animals and coins to NPCs for profit! Collect enough coins and you can craft any weapon, trap, potion or herb from your own farm. It's up to you to make your farm a lush paradise. Eee, Poke!
