Highly Effective Marketing Plan (HEMP) is a powerful and innovative marketing planning tool, which makes it easy to create marketing plans that are both visually attractive and very easy to understand. The great thing about HEMP is that it combines information from the Best-Selling Book and the Marketing Copywriter's Handbook into a single, easy-to-read software application. The best-selling book by Peter Knight on the market is available as a soft-copy option for educational institutions, trainers, marketing consultants and independent writers. HEMP will also provide you with a real-time feed of information on your best-performing keywords. What makes HEMP so powerful is that it helps you to create the most effective marketing plan possible - one that meets the specific requirements of your business. Our Highly Effective Marketing Plan (HEMP) key features:

- Accurately identify your customers
- Establish your point of difference in the market
- Build an achievable marketing plan
- Co-ordinate your marketing activity
- Make your marketing budget work harder

Because it's so powerful, there is a soft-copy option for teaching institutions, trainers, marketing consultants and independent writers (both Print and PDF versions available). HEMP will also provide you with a real-time feed of information on your best-performing keywords, so you will have the most accurate information possible. Because it's based on the best-selling book by Peter Knight and the Marketing Copywriter's Handbook, HEMP has become the de facto tool for marketing writers and agencies.
